1 Burrillville Realization Group

Burrillville Realization Group (henceforth “the Company”) is a business which operates democratically, and where all labor is performed by the Owners. It is a labor union which includes the strategic decision-making roles normally filled by an employer and which is Owned by the people who do the work. The Mission of the Company is the advancement of well-being for all people. To accomplish this goal we will operate business ventures designed to generate revenue through which we can secure our own well-being and consequently become empowered to help others.

This document outlines the organizational structure under which the Company will be run, but it does not preclude additional organizational rules or revisions being added as addenda to this document. The goal is to have a business that runs like a democracy but shares resources like a commune. A true meritocracy with capitalism at the tip of the spear!

2 Founding Principles

All people deserve to live a life of well-being for as long as is feasible and to have agency to affect their own well-being. The Company intends to ensure that this is possible for all people regardless of their race, religion, gender identity, sexual orientation, disability, or ethnicity.

All conscious beings deserve to experience existence free from suffering. Although we cannot expect to guarantee this for all conscious beings, we must be mindful to always minimize suffering caused by our actions.

All cultures add to the richness of life and thus contribute directly to the well-being of all people. This is not to excuse the destructive elements of various cultures, which are best turned into history lessons.

The opinions of All Owners are valid and nobody can stop an Owner from voicing their opinion in civil discourse.

The Earth and its Biosphere are essential to the well-being of all people and must therefore be protected from harm.

Conservation of resources is key to success and should be practiced by All Owners as a way of life.

Honesty is paramount to the operation of the Company because good decisions require good information. For the good of the Company, it is imperative that All Owners are honest and forthright, especially concerning their own abilities and aptitudes. It is equally imperative that all Full Owners have unrestricted read access to all company data including all networked hard drives.

3 Ownership Structure

3.1 Asset Valuation

The company's total assets must be valued continuously in a secure database. The total company value and net profit are the basis for all other value calculations. Total company value per Equal Ownership Share (EOS) will also be calculated. Land and hard asset valuations will be updated periodically at a frequency to be determined by General Role-Call (GRC) Vote. All financial calculations will use US Dollars.

3.2 Founding Owners

Upon formation, all Founding Owners will be issued an EOS which will entitle them to an Equal Vote Share (EVS) for all decisions. Founding Owners will be required to cover the startup costs of the business monetarily and through hard work. They will also be the first Full Owners.

3.3 Full Owners

Full Owners are defined as Owners with a full EOS in the company. Full Owners are forbidden from owning more than a one full EOS. If an Owner is found to own more than 1 EOS, they are required to sell the excess back to the company and the extra EVSs will not be recognized.

3.4 New and Partial Owners

A New Owner is anyone who has been recruited, asked to join, and accepted the invitation to join the Company.

Candidates for New Owner will be required to go through two interviews. In the first interview, the concept of the Strategic Union and any open positions are explained. The Candidate is then asked to write a proposal for whichever role they feel would fit them best and explain how they will add to the Company. At the second interview they are tasked with presenting their proposal to the Company, after which a decision will be made through a Threshold Roll-Call (TRC) Vote with a threshold of 50%.

New Owners can be added to the organization without limit (except as required for Articles of Incorporation) as long as they are an individual person. For example, two spouses can both become Owners and thus would collectively own two EOSs for all legal purposes, but for the purpose of decision making inside the Company they will each have their own independent EVSs. An Owner is not allowed to own more than 1 EOS and must sell back any excess immediately.

A New Owner can join the Company by contributing currency, contributing resources, or working in a role within the Company. The specific requirements for joining the Company will depend on factors inside the Company such as current demand for new labor.

The primary means of joining the Company will be by working in a role and receiving a labor stipend. 50% of the stipend will be reinvested into the Company until the Owner acquires 1 full EOS. As the contribution increases they will be awarded partial EOSs and the corresponding partial EVSs. Once a New Owner has accrued a partial EOS, they will be considered Partial Owners.

Partial Owners will have full control over the EOS reinvestment rate of their Labor Stipend hours in excess of the Standard Workweek.

3.5 Other Business Entities

The Company can do business with other business entities as required. Independent contractors can be hired for short-term tasks, however roles that become regular should be integrated into the Company and performed by Owners. Independent contractors may be offered a role and Ownership within the Company when their contracted role becomes integrated.

3.6 General Conference

The General Conference (GC) is a regularly held meeting which includes all Owners. The President presides over the GC and sets the agenda. The Owners in the GC will vote to establish all of the rules under which the Company will be run, including this charter. The GC is a time for opinions and moderated civil discourse. Ultimately, all decision-making authority within the Company is derived from the will of the Owners in the GC.

3.7 Labor Valuation

The labors of all Full and Partial Owners are equally valued. A Labor Stipend (LS) will be paid for hours worked and will come from the General Fund.

This LS can be used by Partial Owners to increase their partial EOS. It will take X years for a Partial Owner to become a Full Owner if they: 1) work an equal number of hours to the company average for all Owners, 2) reinvest 50% of their LS back into their partial EOS, and 3) Do not increase their partial EOS through any other means. X can be any number of years depending on how much demand there is for new and existing labor inside the company. This calculation must therefor be updated continuously as company profits change. As profits and total company value go up, so too must the LS, unless it is readjusted by changing X. This is expressed mathematically by Equation 1:

$$LS = \frac{EOS}{(W * X * Y * Z)} \quad \text{Equation 1}$$

Where,

LS is the Labor Stipend rate in US Dollars per Hour

EOS is the calculated value of 1 EOS in US Dollars

W is the average length of an Owner's workweek in hours

X is the aforementioned number of years to become a full Owner

Y is the number of weeks per year (52)

Z is the reinvestment rate of 50% (0.5)

The LS will be recalculated by the Finance Department on a timetable to be determined by General Roll-Call (GRC) Vote. The Company's average workweek W will be tracked by the Finance Department. Additionally, the Labor Valuation can be adjusted in real time by changing X. X will be the average opinion from each of the three Offices of Influence.

The value of 1 EOS is defined as the Company's total net asset valuation divided by the number of outstanding EOSs.

3.8 Profit-Sharing

All net profits are the property of the Owners. A dividend will be set by the Board of Directors to be paid to each Owner based on the value of their full or partial EOSs. The dividend will include all net profits not previously earmarked for reinvestment into the company or leadership bonus payments.

Leadership bonus payments are paid out as a predetermined percentage of net profits which exceed a Profit Reserve (PR).

3.9 Patent Royalty

Patents are important pieces of intellectual property that will help ensure the Company's future. Any Owner who produces a profitable patent will be paid a Royalty from all revenue generated by the invention. The Royalty Rate will be decided by GRC Vote. Royalties can be split equally among multiple inventors.

3.10 Employees

The hiring of employees is banned. All labor must be performed by Full or Partial Owners.

3.11 Retirement

Owners who choose to retire can set up a sale schedule to sell their EOS back to the company over time to support their retirement.

3.12 Voluntary Separation

Full and Partial Owners are free to sell their full or partial EOS back to the company at any time. They will no longer be Owners and they will no longer have any input to the operation of the company.

3.13 Involuntary Ejection

All Owners have the right to petition the President to eject another Owner from the Company if they can provide a petition signed by the Owners of at least 10% of outstanding full and partial EOSs. Ejection of the Owner will be decided by TRC Vote with a threshold of 50%.

3.14 Dissolution

Any Full Owner can trigger a Dissolution Vote by providing the President with a petition signed by the Owners of at least 25% of outstanding full and partial EOSs. Dissolution will be decided by TRC Vote with a threshold of 85%. After a successful dissolution vote, the President will lead negotiations of Asset distribution or liquidation. Owners can band into subgroups to form their own partnerships with their share of the assets.

3.15 Splitting

A group of Owners may petition the President for a negotiated split of the Assets. They must elect a President and create their own business entity in order for negotiations to proceed.

3.16 Acquisitions

The Company may acquire conventional businesses. Employees on payroll at these businesses should be given preferential consideration toward becoming New Owners.

4 Offices of Influence

The Company will be led by three Offices of Influence that will be responsible for executing the will of the Owners. These offices will be filled by democratic election during General Conferences (GCs). The Officials elected to these Offices will serve for terms to be set in Addendum A1. Additionally, for taking on the burden of leadership, these Office holders will also be eligible for bonuses in the form of a percentage of net profits in excess of the PR. The bonus percentages for each of the three Offices will be determined by GRC Vote. Bonuses can be shared with key organizational members. Owners cannot hold a separate management position in the Strategic Organization while holding an Office of Influence, but they can contribute labor. Additionally, Owners cannot hold more than one Office of Influence at a time.

It is imperative that everyone who serves in the Offices of Influence have full administrative control over all resources while they serve.

Candidates for Offices of Influence must be Full Owners and must maintain 1.0 EOS while serving.

4.1 President

The President presides over the GC and is therefore the primary facilitator of Company business. The President issues EOSs to Owners and recognizes the EVSs that go along with that ownership. The number of EOSs the President may issue will be set by GRC Vote. The President also presides over all GCs and therefore must be elected first. Because the President has the sole power to put something up for a vote in a GC, they are the primary dispute resolver within the company. It is the responsibility of the President to ensure that this document is being interpreted in a fair, equitable, and effective manner.

The President will organize and preside over all GRC and TRC Votes and Elections. The President serves as the organizational foundation on which all of the company's activities are based. It is the duty of the President to ensure that the organizational structure of the company continues to support the Mission of the Company. The President will have the sole power to put Recall Proposals, Ejection Proposals, Censure motions, and Addendum Ratifications up for GRC or TRC Votes as appropriate.

General Disputes will be brought to the President's attention by filing a Grievance signed by the Owners of at least 1 EOS. The President will attempt to resolve the dispute, and may put the issue up for a TRC Vote with a threshold of 50% of outstanding EOSs.

4.1.1 Election

The President should be the first official elected within the company. All other elections and votes must be organized and certified by the President. Full Owners may propose themselves as candidates for the role of President. The candidate who receives a plurality of a GRC Vote of all Owners becomes the President.

4.1.2 Recall

The President is exempt from Involuntary Ejection while they serve as President.

The President can be recalled by the CEO through the following means:

1. The CEO and all of the Directors can organize a RP Vote, but they must be unanimous in the decision.
- or
2. Any Owner can submit a RP signed by the Owners of at least 15% of outstanding Full and Partial EOSs to the CEO.

RPs must include a proposed role for the President after a successful recall. A TRC Vote with a threshold of 50% will be organized by the CEO to determine if the President will be recalled.

Upon successful Recall, the former President immediately assumes their new role in the company. The CEO immediately organizes a new election for President.

4.2 Chief Executive Officer

The Chief Executive Officer is the primary strategic decision maker within the Company. The CEO has the Authority to use the General Fund to execute their Strategic Business Plan (SBP) by acquiring resources and paying the LS to Owners for hours worked.

4.2.1 Strategic Business Plans

CEO candidates will present their SBP and an election will be held to name a CEO based on their SBP.

SBPs are detailed documents that a candidate develops to present to All Owners prior to the Strategic Election. An SBP shall include continuation of existing revenue streams and proposals for new ones. The new CEO's SBP will become a part of Addendum B to this document. The SBP will also include assigned strategic roles for all Owners, designation of bonuses to be paid to key Owners from the CEO's Bonus, and a strategic organizational chart.

The CEO can assign Owners to work with Coordinators in groups of about 10. The Coordinators can report to Managers, if such organizational complexity is required. Typically, an outgoing CEO can and should take over as Manager of their successful development projects. This will foster a community of Managers who have served as CEO.

The President will also put forth a SBP assigning a new date for an election. Owners will have the option to Vote for the President's proposed new Strategic Election date if none of the current SBPs appear viable. The President's SBP will also name an Interim CEO to continue current business while a new election is organized. The current CEO and members of the Board of Directors are eligible to serve as Interim CEO.

Strategic Business Plans are the property of the Company must not be discussed with non-Owners.

4.2.1 Election

The CEO will be the candidate whose SBP receives a plurality in a ranked-choice GRC Vote. The number of ranks to assign is 1 for the CEO and at least 1 for each Director to be elected.

4.2.2 Displacement

A CEO who is displaced by an Election will have a claim to management of those projects they successfully built as CEO. They will also have a claim to a portion of the CEO bonus consistent with their projects' contributions to Company profits.

4.2.3 Patents

The CEO can use the General Fund to apply for Patents that are critical to new and existing business. Credit and Royalties will always be given to the Inventor or Inventors.

4.2.4 Recall

The CEO is exempt from Involuntary Ejection while they serve as CEO.

The CEO can be recalled through the following means:

Any Owner can propose a Recall Proposal (RP) Vote against the CEO if they present the President with a RP signed by the Owners of at least 15% of outstanding full and partial EOSs.

Additionally, the Board of Directors can trigger a Recall Vote by unanimous consent. The President will then be required to organize a TRC Vote with a threshold of 50%.

The RP must include a proposed role for the CEO after successful recall and must also propose the name of a Director who will serve as Interim CEO for a limited term to continue existing business while new SBPs are presented and voted on. The Interim CEO is authorized only to continue existing business using the General Fund. Recall of the CEO will then be put up for a TRC Vote with a threshold of 50%. After the CEO has been successfully recalled they immediately assume their new roll in the company, the Interim CEO assumes Office, and the President must immediately begin organizing the new Strategic Election to be held on or before the end of the Interim CEO's term.

4.3 Board of Directors

The Board of Directors are in place to ensure continuity of strategic leadership and to develop a collective vision for the future of the Company. They will meet regularly to discuss the performance of the company. They ensure that the CEO is executing their SBP faithfully and in the best interest of the Owners. The Board of Directors are also responsible for ensuring the integrity of the Company's financial and legal records.

4.3.1 Elections

There will be an appropriate number of Directors and they will be those Candidates in the CEO election who received the next most votes.

4.3.2 Organizational Addenda

The Board of Directors will have the authority to propose Organizational Addenda to this document. Organizational Addenda must be ratified in a TRC Vote with a threshold of 70%.

4.3.3 Quarterly Report

The Board of Directors will issue a report once per quarter detailing the financial health of the company. The CEO will provide revenue projections based on new and existing business to be included in the report. LS history and Projections should be included, as well as profits and profit forecasts. The report will be made readily available to all Owners.

4.3.4 Dividend

The Board of Directors will declare a dividend payable to all outstanding EOSs as part of their Quarterly Report. The amount will be the amount of liquid funding available in the General Fund that is not previously marked for reinvestment at the time of declaration. After declaring the total dividend, the Board of Directors will then allocate funds from that total for leadership bonus payments. The remainder after paying bonuses will be divided up equally to each outstanding share.

4.3.5 General Fund

The Board of Directors oversee the General Fund. All applications for credit (loans or other forms of debt) shall be at the discretion of the Board of Directors up to an amount to be decided by GRC Vote.

individuals or organizations. The Legal Department will be led by the Lead Counsel, an elected position. Candidates for Lead Counsel must be licensed to practice Law in the jurisdiction where the Company will be incorporated. The Board of Directors will receive a budget from the General Fund for supplies, office space, and LS hours for expenses related to the Legal Department. The Legal Department budgets will be determined by GRC Vote.
